

This is not a competition, but a great place to show your digital photos. One of my favorite digital review websites is www.megapixel.net They have three galleries that change regularly and the photos are international and really good. Photos stay on the sight for several weeks.

Cover Photo Submissions: these are recent submissions that did or did not make the cover (home page).

Home Town Gallery: dedicated to photos where live and work or visit.

Macro & Close-up: everything small made big.

Each gallery is several pages with several photos per page. There are two places to select to submit a photo for each gallery.

They want photos as shot with minimum or no fixing and you must tell them what you have fixed.

I have been notified that my Bee photo will be posted soon, this will be my fourth photo.
