

Show at the Georgetown Library

Charlie Byers sends word that a show called Six from Sun City is on view at the Georgetown Library until the middle of April. It includes equal parts of photography and paintings. The artists are Roy and Rhea McDonald,

Charlie Welsh and Sharon Perdue, Charlie Byers and Kay Webster.

The show includes recent work for all six contributors. Because of the time span of the exhibit, the participants have decided to rotate in new offerings during the course of the exhibit. This means you can go see it now and then go again later and see different works.