

Creative Playscape San Gabriel Park

Adjacent to the Georgetown Recreation Center on Austin Avenue (a little north of the Williams Drive junction on the east side) there is a play area that has some interesting structures. This should provide an opportunity for photographing children at play in interesting surroundings and to capture some geometric patterns. There is parking beside the area.

